Artists of the Month:

October
Marcus Peake, Spoon Bender

“Is it with great enjoyment that I am able to share this insight into my art. I have been manipulating cutlery for over 20 years and my artwork has evolved over that time. The medium that I use to create my works is fast becoming hard to get, hence more valuable. Some see special sets of spoons and forks for what they are. I see the potential in each and every piece. No item is redundant. I see objects of art in every piece seeking to realise their full potential. Artworks are only limited by my imagination. My display in October includes a new range of work which I have created especially for the month, and which I present under the auspices of jewellery. I will continue to produce new items ‘on the spot’ during my demonstration too. I value the opportunity to interact with those who come along to see what I do, and if you like what you see I will ‘swap’ each item to be the exact right fit for you. I find this is what people enjoy about my approach, and it is that interaction that drives me to find new directions in my cutlery craftings.”
